EMIS: European Man-for-Man Internet Survey 2010

Welcome to the largest ever survey of gay men, bisexual men and other men who are attracted to men. It is happening across Europe.

Please take part if you are...

- a man who is attracted to other men AND/OR
- a man who has sex with men AND/OR
- a man who thinks he might have sex with men in the future

You must be old enough to legally have sex in the country where you live.

What's it about?

It asks about relationships, sex life, risks and precautions, and use of health services. One of the goals is to see whether gay men and other men who have sex with men have access to HIV testing and prevention. Most men take 20 to 30 minutes to complete the survey.

What about data protection?

We guarantee your anonymity. We will NOT collect the IP-address of your computer or try to install any cookies on it. We will not collect any information about you that would allow anybody to identify you. A report of the survey results will be produced towards the end 2010. It will be available from the project's website.

Who are we?

We are an international group of researchers and health workers in public health institutes, universities and non-governmental organisations working in HIV, gay health and human rights, from 31 European countries. The survey is funded by the European Commission and supported by the European Centre for Prevention and Disease Control, the European Regional Office of the World Health Organization, and many national and international gay organisations and websites. You can get more information about the survey at www.emis-project.eu

Please complete this survey ONCE ONLY this summer.

Tick both of these boxes to say that you have read and understood what the questionnaire is about and that you wish to take part.

Did you know this about HIV, testing and treatment

The following seven statements are all TRUE. Did you know this already?

AIDS is caused by a virus called HIV.

You cannot be confident about whether someone has HIV or not from their appearance.

There is a medical test that can show whether or not you have HIV.

If someone becomes infected with HIV it may take several weeks before it can be detected in a test.

There is currently no cure for HIV infection.

HIV infection can be controlled with medicines so that its impact on health is much less.

Effective treatment of HIV infection reduces the risk of HIV being transmitted.

[Please select an answer]

- I knew this already
- I wasn't sure about this
- I didn't know this already
- I don't understand this
- I do not believe this

Did you know this about HIV and sexually transmitted infections

The following six statements are all TRUE. Did you know this already?

HIV cannot be passed during kissing, including deep kissing, because saliva does not transmit HIV.

You can pick up HIV through your penis while being 'active' in unprotected anal or vaginal sex (fucking) with an infected partner, even if you don't ejaculate.

You can pick up HIV through your rectum while being 'passive' in unprotected anal sex (being fucked) with an infected partner.

Even without ejaculation, oral sex (sucking and being sucked) carries a risk of infection with syphilis or gonorrhoea.

When HIV infected and uninfected men have sex together, the chances of HIV being passed on are greater if either partner has another sexually transmitted infection.

Most sexually transmitted infections can be passed on more easily than HIV.

About Post Exposure Prophylaxis (PEP)

The following three statements are all TRUE. Did you know this already?

Post-exposure prophylaxis (PEP) attempts to stop HIV infection taking place after a person is exposed to the virus.

PEP is a one month course of anti-HIV drugs.

PEP should be started as soon as possible after exposure, preferably within hours.
